

TAKE FLIGHT 2024

VIRTUAL PARTNERS MEETING

Advancing Western Monarch and Native Insect Pollinator Conservation

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 2024

USFS Partnerships in Monarch Conservation

Matt Horning

matthew.horning@usda.gov
USDA Forest Service

Matt is a program manager for USDA Forest Service International Programs – Office of the Chief (USFS-IP). Primarily, he manages USFS-IP's western Monarch butterfly portfolio, and provides leadership and technical expertise in reforestation and nurseries supporting the Forest Service's mission to share knowledge globally. Through this work, Matt has established extensive partnerships with a global array of agency, university, and NGO cooperators and funders in rare species conservation and natural resources management.

