

TAKE FLIGHT 2024

VIRTUAL PARTNERS MEETING

Advancing Western Monarch and Native Insect Pollinator Conservation

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 2024

It Takes a Village

Gail Morris

gail@swmonarchs.org
Southwest Monarch Study

Gail Morris is the Coordinator of the Southwest Monarch Study, a Community Science research project, based in Arizona. She has been researching monarch butterflies since 2006 and volunteers as a board member of the Central Arizona Butterfly Association and several monarch organizations. Gail writes regularly for Journey North's Western Monarch Updates during the migration and has authored several monarch publications. She dedicates her time training Community Scientists to participate in monarch research, education and conservation.